Adam Goldberg

Hailing from Toledo, Ohio, Adam found glass at age 15 when he took classes at the Toledo Museum of Art. His interest in the material never ceased, and he continued on to receive a Bachelor of Fine Arts in 3-D studies and glass from Bowling Green State University in 2011. Adam is drawn to the fluidity and purity of hot glass, and the need to work as a team to create the work. Glass has taken Adam around the world, but he is proud to co-own Gathered Glassblowing Studio in his hometown. Adam takes the lead on designing many of Gathered's products and installations, and works closely with corporate clients and wholesale customers.

Mike Stevens

Mike grew up in Indianapolis, IN. He was first introduced to hot glass as a high school student taking classes at the Broad Ripple Arts Center. He graduated Cum Laude with a Bachelor's of Fine Arts degree in 3-D studies from Bowling Green State University in 2012, with a focus on on glass and sculpture.

Mike is a founding member and co-owner of Gathered, and serves mainly as the studio and production manager. Additionally, Mike manages most projects related to shelving and furniture. His interest in glass is mainly utilitarian; making art that has a function, which invites daily interaction. He finds inspiration in the intimacy we build with objects through use. He expresses that care through dedication to craft, mastering traditional techniques developed through centuries of human refinement.
